Project description

At a time when racism and xenophobia are messing up European societies, we are looking for educational alternatives that positively value diversity and we believe that cooking is an attractive and motivating proposal.

This project is developed with partners from Turkey, Germany, Estonia and Spain, four corners of Europe that provide a social and cultural diversity that enriches our gastronomic proposal.

Over 24 months, an analysis of the reality of each country, a collection of recipes from the world, the creation of the didactic units, the test phase, the creation of the visual materials and the adaptation of the same will be carried out. With all this we will have made a single intellectual result consisting of 2 documents: a multimedia book of recipes (student's book) and a manual for teacher's support.

Strategic Partnerships in the field of Adult Education

Strategic Partnerships are international projects which support the development, transfer and/or implementation of innovative practices and joint initiatives that promote cooperation, mutual learning and exchange of experience at European level. They involve at least three organisations from 3 programme countries.

Kick-off meeting in Spain

On the 20th of February 2018, the representatives of the partner organisations of the project arrived to Valencia for the kick-off meeting of the project. During the 2 days of the coordination meeting they had enough time to review the project goals, to plan the results and to distribute the different tasks.
